

CONTINUE FIERCE OFFENSIVE IN WEST

Allies Reported to Have Advanced Half a Mile Saturday

FRENCH GAIN POSITIONS

British Gain Lodgement in Strongly Defended German
Position of Bois de Trones

COUNTER-ATTACK BREAKS

Undeterred by rain and fog, the Franco-British offensive continues fiercely north of the Somme. The British in conjunction with the French are reported to have advanced a half mile on Saturday against the Germans. General Haig's forces also have made considerable progress at Contalmaison, where their position now is considered "satisfactory."

French Gain Desired Positions

The French in an attack on Hardecourt and Mamelon gained the desired positions in a little more than half an hour. The Germans counter-attacked twice against the Mamelon positions but were repulsed. The French inflicted heavy losses and took 260 prisoners. Artillery bombardments continue around Verdun.

A fierce preliminary bombardment by the British was followed by an infantry attack which gained them lodgement in a strongly defended German position known as the Bois de Trones. The Germans attempted a strong counter-attack to regain this position but according to the British official statement it broke down under the British fire. The Russian drive for Kovle is again in full swing along both sides of the railway from Sarney to this important junction point in Volhynia. General Kaledin reported further important progress in this movement yesterday. His lines now have been pushed forward along a front of more than thirty miles in this sector until they extend from Letch-nieva on the north to Gruziatz on the south, the present front lying approximately 35 miles from Kovle.

Resistance Noticeably Weakens

The Teutonic resistance, which a week ago had not only stopped but was driving the Russians along this front, apparently has been notably weakened. Berlin and Vienna have reported an orderly retirement here, but Petrograd claims the capture of more than 2,000 prisoners, with numerous guns and stores and mentions the sabering of numbers of Austrians in a pursuit after a cavalry charge.

The pounding of General Von Bothmer's army in Galicia also is being continued by the Russians who report the capture of another village and of more than 1,000 additional prisoners.

The German official statement has little to say of the fighting in the Volhynian and Galician fields of operation. It reports however, the repression of Russian attacks on Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's lines south of Dvinsk and the moving down of masses of Russians in their futile efforts to break through the German lines north of Baranovichi, along the front from Zirin to below Gorodische. The battle in this latter sector is still in progress. There seems little doubt that the Germans have massed all their readily available reserves against the British in Northern France and are making General Haig's forces pay dearly for whatever successes they win.

Berlin does not concede the gains claimed by the British in their efforts to reduce the German salient centering upon Contalmaison, and declares that enormous numbers of British dead were left on the ground before the German positions in this sector after the fire from the Teutonic artillery and machine guns had torn into the masses of troops advancing to the attack.

Similar heavy losses were suffered by the French in attacks along the Elaches-Soyecourt front of their offensive movement, according to the German headquarters report.

Heavy fighting continues north of Verdun where the French are declared by Berlin to have suffered heavily in fruitless attempts to carry German positions on Froide Terre ridge.

DISCUSS U. S. RELATION TO EUROPEAN WAR

BAPTISTS URGED TO MAKE ALLIED ATTACKS ON EVILS OF WORLD

Dean Shaller Mathews Addresses Convention—Telegrams are Sent to President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes.

Chicago, July 8.—The war in Europe and America's relation to it, as well as the nation's own difficulties with Mexico formed the most vital subjects discussed by the Baptist Young People's Union of America, in its twenty-fifth annual convention here today.

Dean Shaller Mathews of the Divinity school of Chicago University said that lasting peace never could be accomplished until the peoples of every nation could be taught "to be more eager to give justice to one another than to be ready to fight for what they consider their rights."

The Baptists were urged to make combined and "allied attacks upon the evils of the world" in conjunction with other churches, subserving denominationalism to the unity of purpose of all churches, that of striving for the common good of the universe.

Telegrams were sent to President Wilson by the convention assuring him of the Baptists' "unaltering loyalty to those Christian ideals," which they believed had actuated him in his conduct of international affairs and to Charles Evans Hughes, Republican nominee for president, declaring the convention's belief that his candidacy "will lift the thought and purpose of the people to the high plane of Christian idealism."

A message also was sent to Sir Robert Borden, prime minister of Canada expressing appreciation of "unity and friendly understanding existing between the United States and Canada."

The Pennsylvania delegation was awarded the annual trophy for the largest attendance at the convention, Iowa came second and Missouri third. The Rev. W. K. Towner of Oakland, Cal., made the opening address at the night session. Tomorrow morning the jubilee convention sermon will be delivered at the Coliseum by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. The convention will end after devotional services tomorrow night.

CARRANZA FORCES ENIGMA

VILLISTAS WHO RAIDED JIMINEZ

EL PASO, Texas, July 8.—Carranza forces today engaged the Villistas who raided Jiminez, on the Urbana, ranch, southwest of Jiminez, according to meager reports received by private individuals here tonight.

General Francisco Gonzales, de facto commander in Juarez, while unable to confirm the reports, asserted that a battle has been expected momentarily. Upon the result of the engagement depends the domination of the Chihuahua-Durango border, and it is conceded here that should the Villistas, following recent victories at Corralitos and Jiminez again be successful it might result in numbers of peons of the district, who secretly sympathize with the outlaws flocking to their standard. The de facto government is sending all its effort to crush the bandits, 1,200 cavalrymen under General Domingo Arrieta, supported by 800 infantry, facing the outlaw command, estimated at about 1,500 under Calixto Contreras.

FINISH EVIDENCE IN CASE OF ORPET

Overrule Motion that Testimony of Dr. Webster
Be Stricken Out

HEAR FIVE WITNESSES

According to Present Plans Argument Will Require
All of This Week

SIX ATTORNEYS TO SPEAK

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 8.—Evidence in the case of William H. Orpet the university student charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, Lake Forest high school girl, was completed this afternoon.

The defense moved that the testimony of Dr. Ralph W. Webster, a toxicologist, that the ash heap substance was potassium cyanide, and that it was 49 per cent pure, be stricken out on the grounds that no proper analysis had been made. It was overruled by Judge Donnelly and James H. Wilkerson, chief of counsel for the defense then made the usual motion to take the case from the jury and dismiss the prisoner.

"I have listened with deep interest to the words and logic advanced by counsel," Judge Donnelly answered, "but opinions differ. After all I think the case is one for the jury to decide. The motion is denied. Court is adjourned until 9:30 a. m. next Monday."

Mr. Wilkerson's remarks, before the ruling, were briefly supplemented by Attorney Ralph F. Potter, who with Leslie P. Hanna is associated with Mr. Wilkerson in the defense. Referring to the analysis of the evidence made by Mr. Wilkerson, Mr. Potter concluded:

"The absence of motive for the murder on the part of the defendant; the unavailability of potassium cyanide to him; its availability to Marion, her motive for suicide are uncontradicted facts which have been so firmly established that if William Orpet should arise in his seat at this moment and assert that he killed Marion Lambert with cyanide of potassium there isn't anybody in this court room who wouldn't demand that he prove it."

Mr. Wilkerson dwelt mainly on the uncontradicted testimony of every chemist who testified on the point that Marion died of cyanide of potassium poison and that as four of these experts asserted, the only cyanide available to the defendant, that in the greenhouse on the McCormick estate of which E. O. Orpet, father of the prisoner, is superintendent, was cyanide of sodium.

Witnesses today were Dr. Ralph W. Webster, a rebuttal witness whose cross-examination was complete; Fred W. Wenban, the undertaker into whose charge Marion's body was delivered; H. L. Kraft, a druggist of Lake Forest, the home of the Orpet and Lambert families; E. O. Orpet and Alexander Allen.

According to present plans arguments will require all of next week—three lawyers on each side.

Being left standing on the tracks, when a street car came along, they took charge of it. Guards were posted later in the day to prevent any further trouble.

CONVICT THREE MEXICANS OF ATTEMPTED BRIDGE BURNING

LAREDO, Texas, July 8.—Herbeto Pazzott, Antonio Cuevas and Simon Solis, three Mexicans who asserted in their trial that they were members of Carranza's army were convicted here today of attempted bridge burning July 11th. Professing profound disgust over what they regarded as their desertion by their government, the three men testified that they had entered the United States on a raiding expedition under military orders. It was near Webb, Texas, that they were captured. A Mexican cowboy had escaped from the band and brought word to local authorities that the raiders intended to burn a bridge near Webb on the International & Great Northern railroad. Pazzott's assertion that he was a captain in the Mexican army was corroborated by Solis and Cuevas. Solis said that as a member of the "foraging detachment," he crossed the Rio Grande into Texas on the raiding expedition that was commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Villareal. Pazzott he asserted was second in command.

Property damage probably will reach five million dollars.

OFFICERS LEARN MILITARY LESSONS

Watch Working Out of the National Guard Mobilization

NO WORD FROM MEXICO

State Department Officers
Hopeful That Definite Progress
Will Be Made This Week

EXPECT FUNSTON INSPECTION

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Pending new developments in the diplomatic situation between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico army officials are learning military lessons by watching the working out of the national guard mobilization and the summoning of regular army reservists to the colors.

No intimation from Mexico. Today brought no further intimations from Mexico City as to the course of procedure General Carranza will suggest for diplomatic conferences to settle border questions. Officials at the state department however, are hopeful that definite progress toward framing a satisfactory agreement will be made next week.

At the war department the belief is expressed that more than 90 per cent of the 4,000 to 5,000 regular army reservists called for active duty will report promptly. Publication of the fact that a call has been made, it is thought, will bring most of the men to the front without delay, necessary for each to receive formal notification. To make certain that other men passing into the reserve at a later time realize the seriousness of their obligation to return to the colors when called, prompt military trials will await any who fail to present themselves.

The exact effect of the call for reserves is not easy to estimate in the number of men it will produce. It is much more far reaching than the resolve this would indicate however, because in addition to returning back to duty the men who have been out of service for some time it probably will operate to suspend all discharges into the reserves for the time being, except for specific causes which unfit soldiers for duty.

Army officers believe that with the increase of the regular army authorized by the Hay-Chamberlain bill is completed, an average of more than 25,000 trained men will pass into the reserve annually. Since the period of reserve service is four years they estimate that a minimum reserve strength of nearly 75,000 men will be constantly maintained when the system is in full working order.

Much attention is being given just now to the effect of the order directing that members of the national guard who have dependent families be discharged. Under the terms of the order it is optional whether department commanders issue only a release from federal service or a formal discharge which would nullify the soldiers enlistment contract with the state from which he came as well, and strike him off the national guard rolls altogether. No statement has been issued by the war department as to the course to be followed.

Many officers believe that absolute discharge should be granted and that the various states should be urged not to enlist men in the guard in future who are not in every way available for active service.

Expect Inspection by Funston.

San Antonio, Texas, July 8.—Camp Wilson, where the greater part of the Illinois contingent of state troops is assembled, was placed in the most orderly condition possible today in anticipation of inspection by General Funston and his staff. Every detail of military equipment from belt buckle down to tent peg was put in order and the camp sections were polished to a state of flawless cleanliness.

The following Illinois contingents, numbering nearly 10,000 in all are now under General Funston's command: First, Second, Third, Fourth, Seventh and Eight Regiments of infantry; A. B. C. D. E. and F, batteries of artillery; A company of engineers. A signal corps company and the First and Second Hospital companies.

It was expected that General Funston would move his office from Fort San Houston to Camp Wilson today. It is claimed here that this is the world's best military concentration camp from a sanitary standpoint.

SIXTEEN CASES OF PARALYSIS IN STATE

SIX NEW CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS REPORTED SATURDAY

Dr. Drake States This is Normal Number for This Season of the Year—Little Danger of Disease Assuming Epidemic Proportions

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—There were sixteen known cases of infantile paralysis in the state of Illinois tonight, six new cases having been reported during the day. This, according to Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health is the normal number to be expected this season of the year and from present indications there is little danger of the disease assuming epidemic proportions in Illinois.

The cases are scattered as follows: Chicago, 4; East St. Louis, 3; Blue Island, 2; Standard, 2; Streator, 1; Oregon, 1; Gibson City, 1; Christopher, 1; Grandville, 1.

Two other cases at Standard were released from quarantine today, authorities believing them no longer infectious, but the children will remain crippled for life, Dr. Drake said.

The health commissioner of New York City and railroad officials today agreed to advise the Illinois board of the departure of all children from New York who are bound for points in Illinois and investigators of the board thruout the state have been instructed to keep close watch on all children arriving from the east for a period of 20 days.

The rules of the board have been amended to require the isolation of every case of poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis to one well-ventilated room for a period of five weeks. This according to Dr. Drake, is two weeks longer than the quarantine imposed by any other state.

Eight Cases in St. Louis and Vicinity. St. Louis, July 8.—Eight cases of infantile paralysis were reported today in St. Louis and vicinity. One case in St. Louis, three cases in East St. Louis, Ill., two in Belleville, Ill., one in Maplewood, Mo., and one in Valley Park, Mo.

One Death at Burlington, Ia.

Burlington, Iowa, July 8.—The first reported death from infantile paralysis in Iowa since the inception of the recent epidemic in the east occurred here late this afternoon. The one year old child of Thomas McKee of this city died after suffering for two weeks with the disease.

Two Cases at Marion, Ind.

Marion, Ind., July 8.—Two cases of infantile paralysis have been discovered in this city and action has been taken to prevent a possible spread of the disease.

Discuss Plans to Check Epidemic

New York, July 8.—After a conference of federal, state and city health officials in this city today to discuss plans to check the epidemic of infantile paralysis, which already has cost 205 lives here, Dr. W. T. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the federal public health service returned to Washington tonight to expedite the importation of monkeys for experimental purposes.

Dr. Haven Emerson, health commissioner said tonight that while the risk of increase in patients had been lowered it could not be said the epidemic was under control.

Six new cases were reported today in Newark, N. J., and the disease appeared in many other nearby places. The health department today reported eighteen more deaths and ninety five new cases during the twenty four hours ending at ten o'clock this morning. There was a decrease of four deaths compared with the day previous and an increase of eight cases.

Establish Stringent Quarantine

Findlay, O. July 8.—Lucile, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Horner, died here today of infantile paralysis. She was ill two days and five physicians joined in the diagnosis. A stringent quarantine has been established.

Report Two New Cases

Harrisburg, Pa., July 8.—Two new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the state department of health today, making a total of eight in the state. One of the new cases is in Middletown and the other in South Bethlehem. There are now three cases in the latter town.

thermometer registered above 100 and the effect of the heat seemed intensified by the humidity.

Special orders given in the morning took from active detail as many as possible so as to let all receive what relief here was in the shade.

General James Parker, in command of the Brownsville camp, announced that the new division of troops ordered to this part of the border would be composed of three regiments of Indiana infantry, one squadron of Indiana cavalry, two regiments of Minnesota infantry, to be mobilized at Lino Grande, about 100 miles west of here.

The menu of the Illinois troops for today follows:

Breakfast—Fried bacon, oat meal, fried potatoes, bread, butter and coffee.

Dinner—Beans, mashed potatoes, pickles, bread, butter and lemonade.

Supper—Corn of the ear, fried potatoes and onions, roast beef, bread, butter and lemonade.

DEMOCRATS AGREE ON SHIPPING BILL

End One of Most Serious Party Divisions of Administration

SUBMIT AMENDMENTS

Changes Agreed to By Caucus
Do Not Alter Principle of Bill Passed By House

COMMITTEE TO RUSH MEASURE

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Democratic senators in caucus late today reached an agreement on the government shipping bill to uphold the American merchant marine, ending one of the most serious party divisions that has occurred within the life of the Wilson administration. Differences which led to a Democratic revolt at the last session of congress and resulted in failure of the ship purchase bill, had threatened the pending measure, earnestly advocated by President Wilson with a like fate.

Amendments submitted today however, ironed out all serious differences.

Changes proposed by the Democrats of the commerce committee and agreed to by the caucus do not alter the principle of the bill which already has passed the house. The amendments include the following provisions:

The government shall not purchase any ship which flies the flag of a European nation at war nor any ship already engaged in American trade unless it is about to be with drawn from that trade.

No ship shall be acquired by the government which is below 75 per cent of its original efficiency.

The government shall not undertake to operate merchant ships unless all efforts are first made to negotiate satisfactory leases or sales to private corporations for that purpose, the government reserving the right however, to prescribe conditions under which ships shall be operated and in what service they shall engage.

Among Democratic senators who were opposed to the bill as it came from the house and whose support has been won over by today's action are Clarke, leader of the opposition; Bankhead, Vardaman, Hitchcock, O'Gorman and Hardwick. The closing incident of the caucus was a demonstration of applause when Senator Clarke shook hands with Senator Stone signaling the end of the party struggle.

When the amendments had been approved the commerce committee was authorized to rush consideration of the bill and also to draft a provision regarding entry of government ships in American coastwise trade.

Provisions of the house bill relating to the selection and make-up of the proposed shipping board were not amended although there had been suggestions for the elimination of the secretary of the navy and the secretary of commerce from its personnel.

Neither was there any amendment to the provision which limits operation of the proposed system to a five year period following conclusion of the European war.

TORRENTIAL RAINS FALL OVER SANTA MARIA RIVER VALLEY

COLUMBUS, N. M., July 8.—Torrential rains fell over the Santa Maria river valley, in which the American expeditionary command is engaged, today and continued tonight. The rains hampered transportation over the motor supply trail from Columbus to the field, great pools of slippery, alkaline mud forming in the runs.

However, with the supplies already concentrated at the field base, no apprehension was manifested by military authorities that the interruption would handicap General Pershing's command. Despite the weather conditions many truck loads of alfalfa and other forage was started south across the border from here today.

Reports from the field tonight indicate that small bands of Villistas have been seen below General Pershing's line recently.

Setting Back the Clock.

In an eastern city they have followed the plan started in Europe and in order to lengthen the working days have moved the clocks forward an hour. This plan, in these busy munition factory days, will make greater production possible but it is hard to understand how the workers find it easier to work the longer hours with the clock hands changed than would have been true if the hands had been unmolested. They all know just what has been done and the purpose, and at this distance where one cannot come in touch with the reasoning or the psychology of the change, it seems nothing short of childish.

Simplicity and Health.

John D. Rockefeller's recipe for long life is summed up mainly in his theory of drinking plenty of pure water and breathing plenty of fresh air. There is nothing original about Mr. Rockefeller's plan for longevity, for the rules that he outlines are generally recognized as necessary to good health. Long life does not follow certainly any given rules, because constitutions and environments vary so greatly. But it is worth while that so wealthy and influential a man as Mr. Rockefeller does lay emphasis upon the value of simple living as related to health. It is a truth generally recognized that a very large percentage of sickness is due to disregard of the simple rules of living. While there are exceptions, the proper amount of sleep, pure water, fresh air and a plain bill of fare will make for health in the average human being.

The idea of wealth some people have is the opportunity for leisure and a heavily laden table, and to this class the principles of the "richest man" will come as a revelation.

School Election Claims.

The indications are that the expenses for the recent school election will be settled in some satisfactory way. The opinion of State Superintendent Blair expressed in a letter is to the effect that the school board cannot legally be held liable for the election expenditures. It is recognized, however, that the conditions here surrounding the election were unusual, and as there was no precedent to follow, the officials and attorneys were somewhat in the dark as to the best manner of procedure.

In final settlement of the claims no doubt all these facts will be taken into consideration and for that reason some compromise or settlement

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

OBEEDIENCE.

I heard the bonhead parent say,
"Now, Clarence, put your toy away,
and toddle off to bed." And Clarence,
boy, proceeded to dissect the toy, to amputate its head. In half an hour the parent said, "Now Clarence, you must go to bed—I told you once before!
But little Clarence paid no heed; his hobbyhorse he ran with speed, around the parlor floor. Ten minutes later Father cried, "Now son, I will not be denied—It's time you were asleep."
But Clarence hearkened not to that;
he pushed some pins into the cat;
and then the critter weep. And then I thought of other days, of other parents and their ways, and of my father's stick; he never gave an order twice, and if I balked I paid the price, which made me sore and sick.
Perhaps my father was to prone to ham my person till each bone felt like an aching tooth; but since that parent made me scream, we've reached the opposite extreme, the boss is giddy youth. And how I yearn to have a club when some precocious little dink ignores his dad's commands; how I would like to comb his hair, and groom his person
with a chair, and pat him with my hands!

But Clarence hearkened not to that;
he pushed some pins into the cat;
and then the critter weep. And then I thought of other days, of other parents and their ways, and of my
twice, and if I balked I paid the
price, which made me sore and sick.
Perhaps my father was to prone to
ham my person till each bone felt
like an aching tooth; but since that parent made me scream, we've
reached the opposite extreme, the boss is giddy youth. And how I yearn to have a club when some precocious little dink ignores his
dad's commands; how I would like
to comb his hair, and groom his person
with a chair, and pat him with my hands!

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

July 9, 1767—By a decree of the Council of Louisiana, the Jesuits in Illinois were banished from the country; their property was confiscated and their chapels were ordered to be demolished.

is likely without a resort to the courts. Members of the board of education have no desire to take any radical stand on the question, and the claimants are in reasonable frame of mind.

Martin Dies, representative from Texas, read to the members of the House the other day a letter from Speaker Champ Clark, exhorting Democratic members to stay on the job and not go campaigning for fear of giving the Republicans a majority in Congress. Dies announced that it was his intention to stay on the job. One minute after Dies had read the letter, Republican Leader Mann arose and said: "Notwithstanding what my friend from Texas has said, there are now 34 Democratic members out of over 200 on the floor of the House, and I do not see the gentleman from Texas." Of course, Dies' declaration and Speaker Clark's letter will sound good to the folks back home, but that is all it is worth and all it is intended for.

300 Mexican Revolutions

When people are appalled at the reports of conditions in Mexico it would be well worth while to consider some of the historic facts about that country. History shows that between the establishment of Mexican independence in 1821 and the rise of Diaz to the presidential dictatorship in 1877 there were over 300 revolutions. This has been an average of five or six a year for a fifty-year period. During that half century with war almost continually in progress, more than fifty persons have succeeded each other as presidents, emperors or dictators. It was in truth a government where chaos ruled, and it was not until Diaz, in the name of president but in reality a dictator or emperor assumed control that there was any extended period of peace.

The rule of Diaz was the most beneficent yet known and thru his conditions were gradually improving. But finally his power waned and the more recent history of unsettled conditions is generally known to the United States. The history of Mexico proves that there will be no peace until some president or emperor becomes so strong that he is able to rule by force or the country is dominated by a foreign power.

European Food Supply.

According to the Springfield, (Mass.) Republican it is the high prices asked for food rather than the actual scarcity which is causing discontent in England. A trade union congress there recently asked the English government to regulate the prices of food and fuel. In accordance with the German plan it is necessary not only to regulate the prices at which necessities must be sold, but also to fix the quantity which people can eat. Rival economic schools in Germany took opposing views on this subject when the scarcity began. One class declared that war prices themselves would afford the necessary check in consumption and the other maintained that with a limited total supply it would be better to regulate consumption directly. The question is still being debated in Germany as to whether production in the empire has been stimulated as greatly by the regulations as to quantity as would have been the case had prices been left to run their course.

In England the government has no means of increasing the production or limiting the consumption and it remains to be seen how well the situation will automatically be taken care of by the increase in prices. With such a situation there is inevitable suffering and many who must constantly be aided to keep them from starvation.

Growth of High Schools

The most notable phase of public school development lies in the secondary field. Only those who are in a position to take a State wide view can realize this great awakening, is the statement made in the Educational Press.

For the year ending June 30, 1915, there were reported to the state superintendent's office 499 high schools offering a course of four years; 69 offering a course of five years, making the total of 568. According to a bulletin prepared by the high school supervisor there are at the present time 519 four-year high schools. Of these, 192 have been recognized by the superintendent of Public Instruction. There are 123 three-year high schools. Of these, 65 are recognized by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. There are 258 two-year high schools. Of these, 192 have been recognized. This makes a grand total of 879. Moreover, this grand total does not include any of the township high schools which have been organized since June 30, 1915.

While the data at hand is not accurate, it indicates that 96 township high school districts have been organized since July 1, 1915. Most of these to be sure, include high schools which appear in the total already given. However, it is fair to suppose that at least 15 of these districts include territory which has never maintained a high school, and these would need to be added to the increase in the number of high schools within the year just ending. Thus, it would appear that there has been an increase of approximately 219 high schools over last year.

Three Corned Contest.

The Progressive Republicans in Cook county are said to be divided in their allegiance, some of them favoring Colonel Lowden, some Colonel Smith and others Senator Hull. Several conferences have been held in an effort to unite them in the support of either Colonel Smith or Mr. Hull but thus far the efforts have been without avail. There are some in the group who are for Smith or Hull as opposed to Colonel Lowden and they are demanding that there be a United advocacy of one or the other in order to present more opposition for the Lowden candidacy.

Colonel Smith has been in the campaign so long that there is not the slightest possibility of his withdrawal, and Mr. Hull insists that he is in dead earnest as a candidate, so there you are. In all probability there will continue to be these three Republican aspirants for the Republican nomination.

For County Commissioner.

The approaching time for the filing of candidates' petitions has set in motion a query as to who will seek the Republican nomination for county commissioner. As all things point toward a "Republican year" in the coming election, and for the additional reason that a great many independent voters believe more than one party should be represented in the membership of the county board, the time is opportune for some substantial citizen to seek the Republican nomination. Morgan county has been fortunate in having men of the county board from year to year of known honesty and integrity. That, however, is not the only desirable qualification for a county commissioner, and progressive ideas are just as important as honesty and integrity.

The scope of county government, just like city government, is enlarging from year to year and the county board has large inherent possibilities for the upbuilding of county interests. A high class Republican with large ideas for the permanent upbuilding of Morgan county would have a splendid chance at the polls in November.

If you are the average motorist you don't know much about your storage battery. You ought to.

Perhaps you have heard that the Vesta battery lasts twice as long as other makes. But do you know about the Vesta Indestructible Isolator which lock the plates apart and give the Vesta this doubled life. No other battery has this feature.

Stop at any Vesta Service Station and ask to be shown just how and why this Vesta Indestructible Isolator makes Vesta batteries last twice as long.

● The indications are that wheat will weigh about 55 to 57 pounds to the bushel instead of the standard 58 1-2. The indications are that the average yield locally will be twelve to fifteen bushels. The price now offered for wheat is practically the same as last year at the same time. Mr. Furry attributes the weight of wheat to the fact that much of the grain was cut a little green, the farmers being anxious to get into the fields because the Hesian fly was cutting down the stalks. The elevators are offering now for white oats 32c a bushel and red oats 31c, and the indications are for an average crop. Only a few farmers have cut wheat thus far.

RURAL CARRIERS MEET
NEXT YEAR AT JOLIET

State Convention Adjourned at Noon Saturday After Electing Officers and Transacting Other Business.

The annual convention of the Rural Mail Carriers of Illinois, finished its business at noon Saturday and adjourned sine die. Joliet was chosen as the next place of meeting. An address from Carl Weber on good roads was the chief feature of the session, routine business, reports of officers, resolutions and election of officers for the ensuing year occupying the time.

The officers chosen were:
President—Benjamin E. Bernius, Edwardsville.

Vice President—C. W. Anderson, Simms.
Secretary-treasurer—Joseph E. Williams, Lerna.
Sergeant-at-arms—J. O. Ensor, Olney.

Delegates to national convention in Chicago in August—Edward Henn Mt. Vernon; C. S. Wright, Bloomington; E. D. Landwehr, Sherman; A. D. Ackerman, Utica; G. C. Norris, Mason; Herman Ellis, Jacksonville; J. A. Russell.

The meeting was called to order promptly on time and business was at once begun. A letter of regret at not being able to be present was read from Senator J. Ham Lewis, and one of greeting from the state association in session in the state of Washington were read.

Carl Weber, secretary of the Burlington way, was then introduced and made a stirring address on the subject of good roads. He said Illinois was a state first in agriculture, second in wealth and 23rd in condition of roads. With some others he had made an automobile trip to the east and when they struck Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York and Canada they were delighted with the fine highways but returning trouble began when they left Chicago and they were two days getting from Bloomington home and had more broken down cars and breakdowns than during the 1700 miles of travel on good roads.

The Shackleford bill in congress appropriate $25,000,000 for the purposes of good roads. Each state is to receive a flat sum of $50,000; then ten million will be distributed according to population and as much more according to the miles of postal service roads in the state so that Illinois would get $1,372,330, which would be a vast help. The gentleman recited two poems which caused great laughter and applause at the close E. D. Ackerman spoke in a highly complimentary manner of the speech and another member hoped they would get it published in the paper of the association and then each member might get it into his county paper and thus accomplish much good.

One member suggested that one argument for good roads had been omitted and that was the religion of the rural mail carriers as it was utterly impossible to be good and encounter some of the roads which were met at times in the winter.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Weber for his excellent address. Reports of committees were then heard. The credentials committee, the auditing committee and the one on constitution and by laws were heard.

The committee on resolutions reported in substance as follows:
To ask congress to pass a law whereby there would be more encouragement to substitutes to serve as it is now they may act several years and then be distanced by a man who passes a little better civil service examination but knows nothing practically of the route.

To ask congress to create a board of appeals, one member from the order, one from the department and one at large, said board to have appellate jurisdiction in cases of grievance of carriers.

To petition the national carriers association to apportion to the states the large surplus in the treasury.

To petition congress to reappoint the various committees in the various districts to confer with congressmen regarding the good of the order.

Recommending that each state delegation to the national convention elect a chairman of the delegation.

Tendering a vote of thanks to Editor Brown of the Rural Mail Carriers' News and to congress for its legislation in behalf of the carriers.

Indorsing all efforts to secure good roads and laws to make it a punishable offense when an official neglects to do all he can for the betterment of the roads in his jurisdiction.

Tendering thanks to the ladies of the four churches who prepared the banquet; the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, the local organization for faithful efforts in behalf of the convention and all who in any way helped make it a success.

President Bernius returned to the order a sum of $25 voted him and the convention tendered thanks to him and to secretary Williams for not charging up a bill of $11.50 expenses incurred on behalf of the order.

Election of officers came next and there was some little discussion over the matter of keeping the same persons in office year after year but the sentiment of the convention was that way. The president and secretary were chosen the latter without opposition, to succeed themselves.

The secretary stated there were 735 members in the state. The delegates to the national convention were informed that they would have to pay their way themselves.

With many pleasant words and fervent goodbyes the convention adjourned.

NOTES OF THE BOYS IN KHAKI

The speed up recruiting in Seattle 2,000 girls and women of that city wore tags with the following inscription, "If you don't enlist, we will."

Covering their cars with mottoes written in chalk was one of the pastimes indulged in by New England soldiers on their way to the border. A favorite motto was: "We are going to Mexico. Where are you going?"

While New York's 71st regiment was marching from the armory to the entraining point a leather-lunged spectator bellowed out: "Give 'em the old corkscrew haymaker, Kid." He was addressing Private Norman Selby (Kid McCoy), the one-time boxing star.

The "Dandy Fifth" of Massachusetts has a song hit, composed by one of its members, as follows:

Oh, the infantry, the infantry, with the dirt behind their ears,
Oh, the infantry, the infantry, who can lick up all the beers.

The artillery, the cavalry and the blommim' engineers,
Couldn't lick the bloomin' infantry in a hundred thousand years.

Dogs are the favorite mascots of the soldiers, but in some instances cats and even birds were carried along by the boys. A Connecticut machine gun company was presented by a Cleveland packing house with four rams to serve as jinx destroyers.

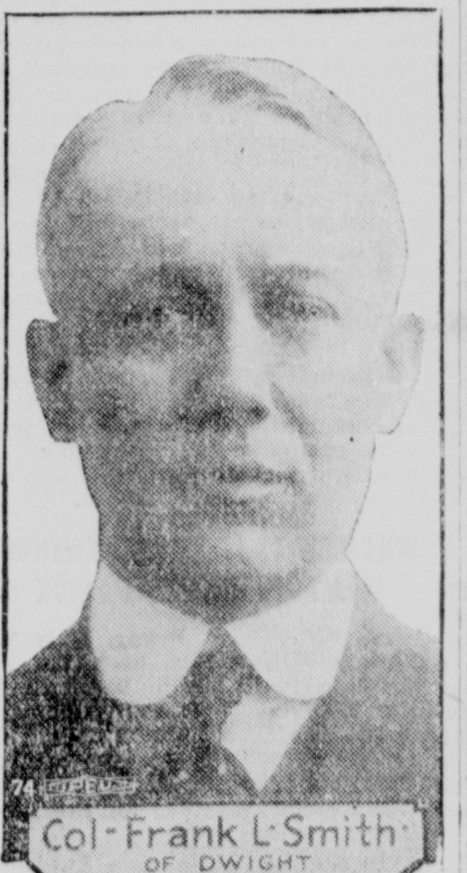

Then the order came from headquarters that no booze was to be permitted in the camps the boys at Fort Riley, Kansas, performed the last sad rites over John Barleycorn. At a hastily dug grave the last quart was lowered while the mourners sang "How Dry I Am."

The boys in khaki have a language all their own, much of it unintelligible to the outsider. Some of the slang words and phrases heard most frequently in camp and on the troop trains, with their meanings, are as follows:

Recruit—Rookie or John.
First sergeant—Top cutter.
Second lieutenant—Shavetail.
Musicians—Wind jammers.
Corporal—Corp.
Rifle—Shooting stick.
Pistol—Gat.
Beefsteak—Slum.
Hash—Sixty-second article of war.
Hartack—Armor plate.
Mess kit—Turtle backs.
Cavalry—Troopers.
Engineers—Posthole diggers.
Quartermaster corps—Scavengers.
Orderly—Dog or robber.
Enlisted man—Old heel.
Captain—Skipper or old man.
Mes sergeant—Sarge.
Cook—Ration spoiler or tight-wad.
Bayonet—Steel or stabber.
Coffee—Bootleg.
Beans—Artillery or Boston bullets.
Bason—Sowbelly.
Breal—Punk.
Infantry—Doughboys.
Signal corps—Lightning rods.
Hospital corps—Pill rollers.
Pie—Appleberry.

Col. Smith Candidate for Republican Nomination for Governor

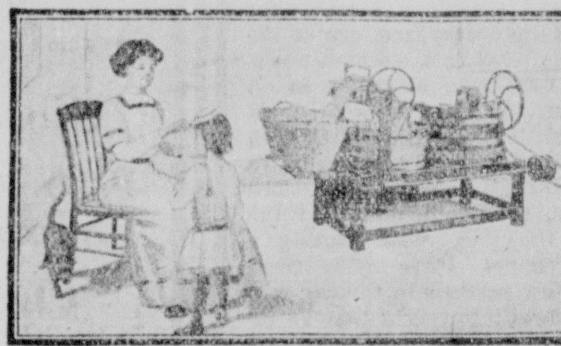

Colonel Frank Smith, candidate for the Republican nomination for the governorship, is now engaged in a downstate canvass. This week he will visit the counties of Mason, McDonald, Cass, Morgan, Brown, Scott, Greene, Jersey, and St. Clair. He will travel part of the distance by automobile and part by train. He is to reach Jacksonville next Thursday morning at 8:15 by automobile from Virginia, and is to leave at 2 p. m. over the Wabash for Mt. Sterling.

Colonel Smith was the first of the candidates to announce and he has a large and effective organization as work. Very early in his campaign a committee was organized in his behalf in his own congressional district and this committee is adding materially in the canvassing work. Colonel Smith hopes to meet a great many Jacksonville and Morgan county people informally next Thursday. (Adv.)

MANY SEE CHINESE BABY AT PASSAVANT

It was reported yesterday at Passavant hospital that a great many people have been calling at the hospital to see the Chinese baby. Many brought flowers and fruit and Mrs. Wang has greatly appreciated these favors, and while she has very little English at her command she shows by her actions that she greatly appreciates the kindness of her friends. She is said to be a descendant of one of the best families of China. While Americanized things appeal to her she still thinks China the best. She eats with her chop sticks and has many Chinese articles of furniture in her room. The baby is a fine young fellow and is getting along all right.

Polyglot.

Even in New York city, where notoriously all the races of the inhabited globe are cast into the common melting pot, it is not often that one sees the compositeness of the population quite so concretely illustrated as it was on a subway car the other day. On one side of the car, sitting alongside of each other, all in a row, were five men and one lone woman. According to the observant and voracious straphanger who reports the occurrence, one of the five men was reading a German newspaper, the next was absorbed in an Italian sheet, the third was occupied with an English paper, the fourth with a paper in Jewish text, while the fifth was busy with a Greek magazine. The lone woman, sandwiched in near the middle of the line, was reading a French magazine. Presumably there were some few persons in the car who were content with purely American literature, but the straphanger, who happens himself to be Irish, does not mention them.—New York Post.

The Cause of Gray Hair.

A northern woman was visiting a friend down south. One morning the northern woman, Mrs. K., was preparing for breakfast. She stopped a moment, rather alarmed at the number of gray hairs that were beginning to be sprinkled among the black. An old colored woman came into her room while she was looking at the gray locks in the mirror.

"Oh, I'm getting old, Mary!" she remarked to the colored woman, busy with her work.

"Old? Why, honey, you looks like a spring lamb!" exclaimed the old colored servant.

"No, I'm old. I know it. Look at my gray hair. That's the best sign I know of. Gray hair means old age to me."

"Law, missus, gray hair ain't no sign of old age. That's jist a sign of worritation and a weak mind!"—Indianapolis News.

Armed Plants.

Many plants protect themselves from their enemies by the use of spikes or prickles and venom, just as certain animals do. Of those using the first named device there are, as a naturalist pointed out, innumerable examples. The thistle, the gorse and the holly are familiar instances of shrubs and trees "armed to the teeth," so to speak. Many plants infatuate the reptiles in arming themselves with venom.

Of these are the deadly nightshade, or belladonna, and the nux vomica. Less destructively inclined are those plants which are simply protected by their disagreeable taste. The common buttercup, which is one of these, is generally shunned by horses and cattle. A plant which is protected by a disagreeable smell is the figwort. Only that hardy and insensitive animal, the goat, will touch it.—London Answers.

Red Tape In Japan.

A European resident of Japan, who lived some distance from Tokyo, was some years ago sent a tax bill for a quarter of a cent. Since it was a very inconvenient distance to the tax office he paid no attention to the bill, but after a time he received a threatening notice from the authorities ordering him to pay it. Not being allowed to pay taxes by post, he was obliged to make a journey costing several hundred times the amount of a cent tax to pay the bill. This quarter of a cent tax was collected three times a year, and he attempted to get rid of the inconvenience in making other journeys by paying the tax for a year in one sum, but this the authorities would not permit.—Exchange.

Dr. Johnson's Appearance.

Dr. Johnson, who was extremely careless of his personal appearance, called at the house of a friend one night to induce him to call with him upon Goldsmith. The philosopher was spruce dressed, as neat in every way as any one could wish, and his friend, noticing the change, inquired why he had got himself up so spick and span.

"Why, sir," replied Dr. Johnson, "I hear that Goldsmith, who is a very great sloven, justifies his disregard of cleanliness by quoting my practice, and I am desirous this night to show him a better example."

Consistency.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "did you forget to bring the things I told you to bring from the store?"

"No. This is one time I carried out instructions to the letter. Here's the whole bundle."

"Oh, I'm so sorry. I've changed my mind about wanting. I was sure you'd forget as usual. It's so hard to depend on a man!"—Washington Star.

Didn't Need It.

A book canvasser went into a barber shop and asked the proprietor if he could sell him an encyclopedia.

"What's that?" asked the barber.

"It's a book that contains information on every subject in the world."

There was a victim in the chair, and he put in feebly, "He doesn't need it!"

Plenty on Hand.

"Have you ever wondered about your husband's past?"

"Dear me, no. I have all I can do in taking care of his present and worrying about his future."—Boston Herald.

HUGHES SENDS MESSAGE TO CALIFORNIA MOOSE CONFERENCE

BIDGEHAMPTON, N. Y., July 8.—Charles E. Hughes, today sent the following telegram to Governor Johnson at the California state conference of Progressives held at San Francisco.

"I understand that the Progressive conference in California is to be held today. The national aims to which we are devoted are so vitally important that I earnestly hope there may be more strong and effective co-operation which will insure their achievement. I desire a re-united party as the essential agency of national progress, a party drawing to itself the liberal sentiment of a quickened nation.

"I warmly appreciate the many assurances of support that are constantly coming to me from Progressives and the willingness that has been so frankly shown to forget former differences in order that by common efforts we may meet our country's imperative need. As to our common purpose, I repeat to your conference what I said in my telegram to the Progressive committee at Chicago. We are not divided in our ideals. Let us work together to attain them."

JOHNSON MAY RUN FOR SENATOR.

San Francisco, July 8.—Governor Hiram Johnson announced here today his willingness to be a candidate for the United States senate. He was wildly cheered by Progressives assembled in a meeting at which the announcement was made. Governor Johnson announced some time ago he would support Charles E. Hughes for president.

DEFEATS PARTY OF VILLISTAS.

Mexico City, July 8.—The governor of the state of Zacatecas reports to the de facto government that Colonel Enrique Ugarte, who recently surrendered to the Carranza forces, has defeated a party of Villistas near Polona Pinos. Fifteen bandits were killed and a quantity of cartridges and several horses were captured. The rebels operating in the state of Vera Cruz have offered to surrender if given a guarantee of amnesty.

BANDIT ROBS BANK.

Jarballo, Kan., July 8.—An unmasked bandit locked Kelly Moore, cashier, into the vault of the Jarballo State Bank here this afternoon, took more than $1,200 and escaped in an automobile with two accomplices. Moore, who released himself ten minutes later, and other citizens immediately started in pursuit. They returned tonight with the report that the fugitives had given them the slip.

SEND PROVISIONS INTO SONORA FOR MEXICAN CIVILIANS

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 8.—The first step toward resumption of normal business relations between Arizona and Sonora was inaugurated here today when several car loads of provisions were taken across the border by a local copper company for relief of Mexican civilians at Naco, 75 miles south of here.

Ives G. Lelevier, Mexican consul here, said that several car loads of food have been sent to Cananea during the last few days and that George Kingdon, general superintendent, had gone there today to inspect the Cananea properties and to determine whether American employees should return.

The embargo established by the United States against everything except food is proving highly embarrassing to the civil population of Sonora, Consul Lelevier said, as many families need clothing but can buy none in Mexico.

The first rain of the season which began last night resulted in activity in the militia camps here. Tents were hastily repaired today and trenches dug to drain the water.

WILCOX WINS FIFTY AND TWENTY MILE AUTO RACES AT SIOUX CITY

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, July 8.—Howdy Wilcox won both the fifty and the twenty mile races in the automobile derby here this afternoon. He travelled the longer distance in 40:29, an average of 72.57 miles an hour and his time for the other event was at an average of 88.4 miles an hour.

In the fifty mile race Lewis was second and Johnson third. Wilbur D'Alene won the ten mile event, making 79.6 miles an hour. Merz was second and Lewis third. A crowd of several thousand persons witnessed the racing program in which sixteen drivers competed.

WILSON TO SPEAK AT DETROIT.

Washington, July 8.—President Wilson will leave here on a special train tomorrow night for Detroit to address the world's salesmanship congress Monday morning. He will leave for Washington Monday afternoon, arriving here Tuesday. Mrs. Wilson will accompany the president.

CALHOUN'S CONDITION UNCHANGED.

Chicago, July 8.—The condition of William J. Calhoun, former United States minister to China, who has been seriously ill since he was stricken with paralysis last Wednesday, was reported unchanged tonight.

NEW VERSION OF INJURIES, VILLA IS SUPPOSED TO HAVE RECEIVED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 8.—Francisco Villa's reported reappearance in Mexican military affairs was followed today by the receipt at the border of a new version of the injuries he is supposed to have received.

According to this latest version, Villa was shot thru both legs and only recently recovered sufficiently to take command of his men. The report that Villa has been operating since his recovery southwest of Parral, was transmitted to General Funston from El Paso today, the same report bearing the new account of the nature of his wounds.

Colonel Gaston, commanding the border in the Big Bend district, moved his forces in such manner as best calculated to prevent a raid by Villa's men or other bandits but army men expressed little fear that the newly organized bandits that whipped Carranza's troops near Jimenez would attempt to strike the border in any force just now. All reports from border commanders indicated quiet.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER ATTEMPT SUICIDE.

Bloomington, Ill., July 8.—Within twelve hours after her mother, Mrs. Herman Waldron of Clinton, Ill., had attempted suicide by taking poison, Mrs. Calloway M. Sanders also of Clinton, both wives of Illinois Central employees, attempted the same means to end her life. Despondency over family troubles was believed to be the cause. There was no pact according to the daughter.

DAY LABORERS SCARCE.

Bloomington, Ill., July 8.—Because the Chicago and Alton officials cannot get several hundred day laborers several big improvements which the road had mapped out have been abandoned or have been let to private contractors. Altho section men are paid $1.75 for ten hours, there is a great shortage, caused mostly by the departure of foreigners to their own countries engaged in war. The situation is the most acute of many years.

ARREST TWENTY-FOUR ON CHARGE OF BOOTLEGGING.

Decatur, Ill., July 8.—Twenty-four arrests including eight women was the result of a wholesale raid conducted this afternoon by Decatur police for violation of the local option law. Several babies were brought to the police station in the arms of those arrested. One woman succeeded in making her escape with four children from a rear door of her house while the officer was waiting for her to prepare to go with him.

LORIMER ARRANGES MEETING WITH DEPOSITORS OF BANKS

CHICAGO, July 8.—Checks for 25 percent of the loss sustained by each depositor in the defunct LaSalle Street Trust and Savings Bank of which William Lorimer was president, are being drawn by Receiver William C. Niblack, it was announced today.

Mr. Lorimer has arranged a meeting with some 5,000 depositors of the bank for next Monday. In a letter sent out to the depositors the former senator declared:

"I have resolved if health and life is spared me to devote my time and energy and such property and business as I am possessed of to earning funds to pay the losses of the depositors of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings Bank and the depositors of the Ashland Avenue and Twelfth Street Trust and Savings Bank."

NEW NAVAL RADIO STATION WILL BE READY FOR USE THIS WEEK

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, July 8.—The new naval radio station recently erected at Point Isabel near the mouth of the Rio Grande will be ready to send forth its initial message early next week. The station with its equipment will cost close to $200,000 and will complete the chain of naval radio stations, enabling communication under almost any atmospheric conditions from the New York naval yard to the Panama Canal. In addition naval vessels operating in the Gulf of Mexico will at all times be in touch with land communication.

UNABLE TO VERIFY RUMORS.

El Paso, Texas, July 8.—A sheriff's posse which left El Paso today to investigate reports that fourteen Mexicans had been killed in a battle with three Americans near Anapra, N. M., returned tonight without having obtained any verification of the rumors. After further investigation, both civil and military authorities here announced tonight that the reports of the raid and the subsequent battle were unfounded. They asserted that a thorough search of the district had developed nothing to support the story.

FIFTEEN HURT IN INTERURBAN WRECK.

Youngstown, O., July 8.—Fifteen persons were injured seriously when a crowded passenger car on the Youngstown and Sharon Interurban line crashed into a work car here this evening.

Most of the injuries were received during a panic that followed the collision. Three women, one of whom may die, and two men are in hospitals here. Responsibility for the wreck has not yet been made clear.

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—“I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband.

I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my housework. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth.”—Mrs. H. L. ONE HUNDRED WOMEN TO BE DELEGATES TO PROHIBITION MEET

Convention Parade Promises To Be A Great Feature—Prominent Women Will Attend.

St. Paul, Minn., July 8.—With no less than one hundred regularly accredited women delegates and fully as many alternates, with special women's conferences daily, a suffrage division in the big Convention parade, and other features under the auspices of the fair sex, women will be an important factor in the Prohibition National Convention in this city, July 19-21.

Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp of Kentucky will head the delegation from her state, being the only woman delegate at large from a non-suffrage state. Mrs. Beauchamp has been a member of the National Committee for twenty years and Secretary of the Committee for eight years, having the distinction of being the only woman who ever called the roll of a national political party convention. She has just been re-elected Chairman of the Kentucky State Committee for the third time. Mrs. Beauchamp has been President of the Kentucky Women's Temperance Union for many years and an ardent worker for the enfranchisement of the women of her state.

Mrs. O. W. Dean, of Chicago, is Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Women's National Prohibition Federation which organization will have charge of the women's features of the Convention. Mrs. Dean is prominently identified with leading women's organizations of Chicago and was the Prohibition candidate for alderman from her ward in the recent spring election. Mrs. Dean, who has been a life-long advocate and speaker for political equality will give an address Thursday morning on “Women in Politics.”

When the Prohibition National Committee decided a little over a year ago that the Prohibition Party should have a department for propaganda work among women voters they choose Mrs. Florence Slown Hyde who had already done successful work among the women voters of Chicago, to direct the work of the new department. Mrs. Hyde has enlisted the aid of women from every state in the union, has impressed upon State Chairmen the importance of giving recognition to the women of the Party, organized the Women's National Prohibition Federation with branches in many states, and obtained thousands of signatures to the Federation enrollment's pledge to support such candidates and carry as stand committed by platform declaration to the complete overthrow of the liquor traffic. Mrs. Hyde will give an address before the Convention Thursday forenoon.

Rev. Mecca Marie Varney, a delegate from Pennsylvania, will give an address before the women's conference Friday morning on “Woman Suffrage and Prohibition.” Mrs. Varney is a well known suffrage lecturer and former Superintendent of the Suffrage Department in the National W. C. T. U. She is an ordained minister in the Disciples Church having studied for her bachelor's degree following her marriage and the birth of two children. She is the wife of Chaplain Charles E. Varney of Spanish American war fame.

U.; Mrs. Blondelle V. Tovey, President of the Galesburg Equal Suffrage Association; Miss Marie C. Brehm, Mrs. Stella C. Brubaker, Mrs. Emily M. Hill, Mrs. Alice C. O'Neal, Mrs. Clara Stangeland, Mrs. Edward F. Blake, Mrs. Charles R. Jones, Mrs. V. C. Hinshaw, Miss Gladys Scobie and Mrs. John Harper.

Mrs. Laura Leonard, who will be an alternative in the Indiana delegation, was recently nominated as the Prohibition candidate for Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, being the first woman ever nominated on the state ticket of any Party in Indiana. Mrs. Leonard has held several offices in the W. C. T. U. in Indiana and was for several years a lecturer on household science for Purdue University.

Among the guests of honor at a reception to be given to women delegates and visitors on Wednesday afternoon by the Ramsey County W. C. T. U. Mrs. Charles H. Randall, of California, wife of the first and only party Prohibitionist ever elected to Congress, will have precedence as a central figure.

Other women in attendance who will take part in Convention social functions will be Mrs. E. E. Lobeck, wife of State Senator E. E. Lobeck of Minnesota, Mrs. Eugene Chafin of Arizona and Mrs. John Bidwell of California, wives of former presidential candidates; Mrs. Aaron S. Watkins of Ohio, wife of the vice presidential candidate of 1908 and 1912, Mrs. Mary Sibbit of Kansas, who has the distinction of being the first woman nominat in any state in the union by any political party for the office of Secretary of State; Mrs. Frances B. Herald of Nebraska; Mrs. Nettie Hallenbeck of Washington and Mrs. Frances Beauchamp of Kentucky, the three women members of the National Committee, Mrs. V. G. STATE NEWS NOTES.

Belleville Reverent Father Grocens, of the Catholic church of Kaskaskia Island, Illinois, has sent to Bishop Althoff of this city the old bell presented to the Church of Illinois by King Louis XIV of France in 1741. The historic value of the bell is estimated at $50,000.

The bell was discarded when the church was dismantled in 1866, and has lain in the weeds ever since.

Alton—The Alton division of the Illinois Navy reserve, which may be called upon in the near future to proceed to Mexican waters or to be used as a coast guard has a complement of forty-three officers and men. Lieutenant Commander J. B. Maxwell, of the sixth division, has been advised to have everything in readiness for service.

Chicago—State institutions have called on Chas. J. Boyd, General Superintendent of the Illinois Free Employment Offices in Chicago for help. They need female attendants and do not know where to turn to get them.

Attendants work eight hours for six days a week and receive $25.00 a month and full maintenance including board room and washing.

Any girl over 18 years of age who weighs more than 115 pounds, is in good physical condition and of average intelligence is eligible for a position.

This is only one of a great variety of opportunities open for women at the Illinois Free Employment Office. According to Mr. Boyd, the State Offices in Chicago are filling more than 300 positions daily and have hundreds of others going unfilled.

Misses Angie Joy and Ruth French and brother Arthur French, Jr., of Joy Prairie, returned to their homes last evening after a visit with their cousin, Miss Florence Rice on West College avenue.

First Run.

Chicago, July 8.—McConnell, after holding Boston to two hits for nine innings, weakened in the tenth and three hits gave the Braves two runs and a 3 to 1 victory over Chicago today. Mulligan's fumble and failure to cover third on Fitzpatrick's sacrifice in the first gave Boston its first run. Tyler was strong in tight places and poor base running by the Cubs spoiled some chances.

Eddie Haibe Wins 100 Mile

GRAND RAPIDS AUTO RACE

Eddie Haibe won the first annual 100 mile automobile race here this afternoon. Ralph De Palma was second and Andy Burt third. Haibe's time for the 100 miles was 1:46:03.40.

Haibe plunged thru the fence on his 95th lap, hitting a pile of lumber, but pulled his car back on the track and finished well ahead of the field. Ralph Mulford's car was flagged on the 86th lap after Haibe's car hit Mulford's. Neither Haibe or his mechanic suffered any injury. The track was rough and the dust bothered the drivers.

MAVERICKS

We wait in fear and trembling in our stomach there's a pain. For the candidate is coming. With his election cigars again.

The cat has nothing on Mr. Villa.
W. E. Williams sent his notice of withdrawal from the race for the Democratic nomination for governor to Roger Sullivan. This leads many to suspect that Roger is not overly enthusiastic about Governor Dunne's candidacy.

An order has been given by the government for 1,000,000 pounds of hard tack to be delivered at the Mexican border. Perhaps they are going to use it as shrapnel.

The man who claims he never had a chance is usually one who never took a chance.

It begins to look as though Governor Dunne is going to get something slipped to him by the Democratic party.

Jacksonville citizens bid fair to have writers cramp before they get thru signing candidates petitions. Candidates are as thick as fleas on the proverbial dog's back.

We Know Them.
A widow lost a hog. We do not refer to her husband. She lost a real hog and advertised for it. The editor says the hog must have read the paper, as he came hiking home on a dead run soon after the paper got out of the post office. This is not the first time where a hog has read a newspaper—and incidentally, forgot to pay for it.—Warren Luttrell, Franklin Times.

Speaking of Carranza getting in a conciliatory frame of mind. What has become of William J. Bryan?

The Beardston Illinois Star in telling of an injury to one of its citizens says that he can blow air from his mouth thru his left ear. We know a lot of politicians who would probably sing their hair if they tried that stunt.

Judging from the proceedings of the board of local improvements in the matter of paving Prairie street the residents of that thoroughfare are just as enthusiastic about having the work done as they were when the question was first broached.

Last week some of the baseball writers were talking about Ty Cobb beginning to slow up. Just to upset their dope Cobb last Thursday at Philadelphia made two infield hits; stole three bases and had three putouts in the outfield, one a sensational catch of a drive by Lofelo. The performance makes Cobb still look to be fairly fast.

Mr. and Mrs. ves Seymour, Miss Dorothy Sargent, Alexander Wiggs, J. G. Dowell and Henry Slack were up to the city yesterday from Franklin.

“They Prosper Most Who Serve Best”

THIS is the old motto on which we are building our business. Our experience is proving it as true as when first stated. Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.
You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

IN 1846.

The history of the Mexican War of 1846, like that of every other large war in which this country has been engaged, had a long prologue, and the stirring events that precipitated the conflict as the result of which the Union acquired New Mexico and California and possession of Texas was confirmed, had in reality been brewing for two decades before the actual clash of arms came.On May 11, 1846, President Polk sent a special message to Congress, in which he asserted: "Mexico has passed the boundary of the United States, and has shed blood upon American soil. War exists, and exists by the act of Mexico herself."When the newspapers printed this message there was much excitement all over the country. It appeared from a dispatch from General Zachary Taylor, that a Mexican force had crossed the Rio Grande and on April 24 had attacked him. Texas was then disputed territory, over whose possession the United States and Mexico were contending, and there was a strong party in the country that did not approve of American troops believed there at all, and who really believed that Texas belonged to Mexico.The origin of the dispute goes as far back as 1803, when, according to some statesmen, Texas was ceded to this country by France. It was so distant, so little known and generally so little regarded in those days that no steps ever were made by the United States to take actual possession. When, in 1819, Florida was purchased from Spain, the American commissioners, after making a half-hearted plea that Texas was part of the Louisiana Purchase of 1803, agreed to give up the claim, and a new boundary was set.This treaty with Spain had not been ratified when in 1821 the Spanish possessions in North America revolted and Mexico established an independent government, claiming jurisdiction over virtually all we know as Texas today. Meanwhile, however, Americans who were far-seeing, and who believed that the Texas territory belonged to the United States, had come out to the new land in numbers, soon bringing the population to a point where the Mexicans were in the minority.The first constitution of Texas as a member of the Mexican Union provided for the gradual abolition of slavery, and the constitution of 1827 actually prohibited the importation of slaves, but the American immigrants that began to flow in brought with them their human chattels. Believing in the majority the American settlers decided to adopt a constitution of their own permitting slavery within the state's domain and separating Texas and setting it up as independent from its neighboring province of Coahuila, with which it was constituted a Commonwealth.The Mexican government, under the sway then of the dictator Santa Anna, ignored the claims of the American settlers, who went ahead and organized a State in defiance of it. Slaves were brought in, and in 1836 Texas formally seceded from the Mexican Union and declared Texan independence. The United States, England, France and Belgium recognized Texas as an independent state, and with this recommendation the new Republic of Texas knocked at the door of the United States for admission to the Union.Then followed the long fight for and against such admission, for it meant the widening of slave territory. The question came up in Congress session after session. Meanwhile Mexico had not relinquished her rights to possession, and in 1842, when the subject was reaching a crisis in Congress, issued a warning to the United States that an act admitting Texas to the Unionwould be regarded as a signal for war on her part. This threat did not deter the party at the back of the project, however, and at the following session of Congress the act of annexation was finally adoped. Texas was annexed to the Union December 29, 1845.At the same time President Polk ordered General Taylor to proceed to occupy the disputed territory lying between the Nueces River and the Rio Grande, while General Almonte,
the Mexican minister at the time,
protested to the American Government that the act of annexation was
"the most unjust act recorded in history" and demanded his passports.The it was evident that a state of war existed by interference, several weeks elapsed before actual engagements occurred between the American army of occupation and the Mexicans resolved upon making resistance. After some skirmishing, following the attack made in April upon Gen. Taylor's men near Matamoros, the first real engagement of the war was fought May 8, 1846 at Palo Alto.
War was declared formally by the American government only five days later, the conflict between the two opposing armies had been carriedly raging constantly in the interval.The Mexican War came to an end with the victorious entry of General
Scott into the City of Mexico Sept.
14, 1847. Peace was signed Feb.
2, 1848. Under its terms Mexico ceded the provinces of New Mexico and California and gave up all claim to Texas, the Rio Grande being established as the southern boundary of the United States. This little essay in war cost Uncle Sam $15,500,000 in actual expenses, to say nothing of pensions, and besides $75,000,000 paid Mexico for the ceded provinces. The loss of life on the American side was estimated at 8,000."ILLINOIS" BOYS.

J. Stanley, D. D., who served from 1897 to 1902. Dr. Stanley lived in Jacksonville about 1866, and attended Illinois college. The family lived at the north end of Church wards had their home. F. J. went away soon, obtained further educa-

in missionary work for some years, and became one of the prominent was a lecture by the Hon. William

Mr. Bryan is a member of the Pres-

At the time of his lecture, the Neto the Assembly escorted Mr. Bryan from his hotel—the Chalfonte—to the Iron press where he delivered his address. Some one seems to have intimated that he was paid for his services. But the Atlantic City paper states that he charged nothing, not even for his traveling expenses.It is something that a layman should be given the opportunity to

The Boy is Father to the Man

Mothers Everywhere Will be Interested in Knowing More About Expectant Motherhood

Old sayings like "the boy is father to the man" are fraught with a most important meaning. And what will aid the expectant mother in conserving her health, her strength, her mind, her peace and the absence of venereal diseases is a subject of vast moment. Among the recognized helps is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend." Applied to the muscles, it sinks deeply to meet them firm and pliant, it thus lifts the strain on the nerves, it relieves the burden on the nervous system, induces calm, peaceful nights of health-giving sleep, and makes the days sunny and happy. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at your drug store and you will then realize why it has been considered true to its name in our best homes through three generations. It is perfectly harmless but so effective that once used it is recommended to all expectant mothers by those who went through the ordeal with surprising ease. By writing to Bradfield Regulator Co., 812 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., you can have a free copy of a wonderful book that unfolds those things which all expectant mothers delight to read. Write today.

It is mailed free. Among its features are an explanation of the remedy's action, the first pulsations, pre-natal uneasiness, date of expectancy, how to be comfortable, and a great variety of topics all bearing upon the one subject of expectant motherhood. Then there are many letters which describe actual experiences, making it a guide book of great value. Don't fail to write for this book.

Heroes of the Custer Tie

A veteran of the war of the rebellion has a letter which contains the following verses and introductory paragraph:

The following verses were sent to the Times with the endorsement: "The author of these lines is unknown to the undersigned. This copy was picked up in the road near the camp of the 1st. Conn. Cavalry, near Winchester, Va., June 1865. H. W. Elmer, 1st. Conn. Cavalry; 1st Brigade, 34th Division Cavalry Corps." We print from the original manuscript of the unknown author. The dashing cavalry leader, whose valor and patriotic devotion has now been sealed by his death in Indian battle, wore a red silk scarf or ribbon around his neck, and in the war in Virginia this became the rallying symbol of the whole division. The allusion to the men "who never lost one gun or flag" is literally true. It can be said of no other division commander.

THE HEROES OF THE CUSTER TIE
Dedicated to the Gallant General Custer.

The heroes of the Custer Tie!
The lads who love the crimson dye!
In all Columbia's glorious land,
Where all are brave, there's not one band
Like those who wear the Custer Tie.

When the fierce charge the trumpets tell
Their eyes flash fire, their bosoms swell;
With rifle cocked, and gleaming sword,
Like river thru its cut bank poured
Rush Custer's lads with deafening yell.
No pause for the when bullets fly,
And battle's cloud obscures the sky—
Some slain, some wounded, bite the dust—
The rest are maddened—onward burst,
And startled formen fall or fly.

The rider's valor gives new force
In battle shock to his swift horse.
Like eagles swooping on their prey,
Or like the vivid lightning ray,
The Squadron dashes on its course.

The banners once by proud foes borne—
The guns from field and fortress torn.
Where are those flags which once waved high?
Where is that dread artillery?
They now those heroes' camp adorn.

Well may they shout, well may they brag,
Who never lost one gun or flag—
Who never heard a hostile gun
But quick surrounded seized and won,
The piece within their lines they drag.

For gallant Custer's boys a cheer—
For honor, will, and daring deed,
We rushed the bravest and the first,
When on the foemen's ranks we burst.

And spread before us flight and fear,
Famed warriors of the Custer Tie!
The time for peace and honor nigh,
Won't the dear ones we left at home
With joy and pride around us come,
And clasp those with the crimson tie.

Give thanks for rank and wealth who went
The pile of gold, the varied star—
We'll bear our badge of bravery
Our brave division's crimson tie,
In peace, in war, at home, afar.

And should our country o'er demand
For other wars our veteran band,
The heroes of the Custer Tie,
Prepared to conquer or to die,
Around the stars and stripes they'll stand.

MEAT PRODUCTION EXPERTS TO INCREASE IN WEST

Cost of Raising Animals Will Also Grow—Department of Agriculture Issues Collected Data

Washington, D. C., July 8.—That hereafter there should be a slow increase in the output of beef and mutton in the range states of the West, but that this increase is likely to be accompanied by an increase in the cost of production, are the chief conclusions of a report on "Live Stock Production in the Eleven Far Western Range States" which the Department of Agriculture has just published. This report is one of the five sections of the exhaustive report on the meat situation in the United States, in the preparation of which the Department specialists have been engaged for some time. It discusses the reasons for the long decline in meat production in the West and explains why there is reason to believe that this is now a thing of the past. In addition it includes detailed studies of the present cost of producing steers and lambs.

Between 1910 and 1914, the year in which the investigations on which the report is based were made, the numbers of live stock in the eleven states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, declined about 13 per cent. For this decline the report holds the settlement of public lands and the consequent reduction of the range primarily responsible. A number of other causes have contributed to the downward movement, but it is pointed out these have been more than offset by high prices and therefore more profitable range animals, and the general agricultural development which have favored production by leading to a more widespread adoption of the practice of winter feeding and winter pasturing on alfalfa and cultivated crops.

The prediction that this decrease hereafter will give way to an increase is based upon the belief that the amount of live stock on farms and homesteads will be greater in the future, that the stock ranges in the National Forests will continue to improve, that the carrying capacity of the stock ranges on the public domain may be increased by legal regulation, and finally that high prices of range animals and better methods will result in a more efficient utilization of the available forage, or, in other words, a greater production per unit of forage.

In 1914 it was estimated that no more than 30 per cent of the new settlers had more live stock than was necessary to supply them with work and milk animals. The situation in this respect, however, was changing even then, and the movement for the production of more live stock may be expected to continue because both market and agricultural conditions make this indispensable to really successful farming. The change will be gradual, it is said, and only a few head of stock will be added to a farm, but ultimately and in the aggregate the increase will be greater than that which is likely to be accomplished in any other way. The problem for the states and the national government, it is said, is to aid in one change by working out a system which will make such agriculture profitable.

In addition to this increase in the numbers of farm stock, there is little doubt that the carrying capacity of the existing ranges can be greatly enlarged. This has been demonstrated in the national forests where improved methods and regulation have increased the capacity of many ranges from 15 to 30 per cent. This process should continue for at least ten years more and should result in an building up the carrying capacity of the national forests as a whole by perhaps 15 per cent.

If similar control could be exercised over the public domain outside of the forests, it is estimated that the capacity of these ranges could be increased about 30 per cent. About half of this would result from the improvement in the range itself after overstocking and premature grazing were prevented and natural reseeding facilitated. The remainder would follow water development, the construction of fences and the introduction of methods of handling stock which are out of the question as long as the improvement of conditions on the range merely provides an incentive for new men to crowd in and undo by overstocking whatever good has been accomplished. The carrying capacity of these ranges has greatly diminished in the past and under the present system there is no reason for supposing that it will increase in the future.

Other factors, tho of less importance, that should tend to increase the future production of live stock are greater economy in the use of forage both on the range and on the farm, the use of more and higher grade bulls and better management of the breeding animals thru the year. The last two, it is said, offer the possibility of increasing the calf crop five or ten per cent and the average weight of a two-year-old steer perhaps thirty pounds.

Where winter feeding is practiced it is believed that a yearling steer will cost approximately $30 and a "long" two-year-old $45. In the range sections of the southwest, on the other hand, the costs may be estimated at from $15 to $19 for a yearling and from $20 to $25 for a two-year-old. With sheep there is a similar variation. In California the cost of producing a lamb is placed at $1.55, in the southwest at $1.75, and in the northwest at $1.82. In considering these figures it must be remembered that they all may be materially altered by increasing or diminishing the percentages of births in the herds and flocks. Better methods, it is pointed out, will almost certainly increase the calf and lamb crops and in this way reduce the cost of production per head. In estimating these costs the investigators charged against the stock the market value, in the vicinity, of all the feed consumed. In this way the necessity of considering the money invested in land and equipment was eliminated but, on the other hand, allowing the stock owner a profit on the feed increases somewhat the estimated cost of producing animals. As the owner might not get his profit on the feed if he did not raise stock to utilize it, the actual profits in stock raising are probably somewhat greater than the difference between the market price of the animals and the report's estimates of the cost of production.

INDIAN PRINCE MAKES FIGHT FOR REVENGE

Sir Pertab and Troop Cherish Old Grudge Against Germans for Injults.

London, July 8.—Sir Pertab Singh is back on the Western Front with his famous Jodhpur Lancers, dubbed by Lord Roberts the "finest cavalry in Asia".

Tho over seventy years of age, Sir Pertab was among the very first of the Indian tributary princes to offer his services to the British Government when the war broke out. For nearly eighteen months he remained fighting the Germans in France and Flanders. Then oriental etiquette compelled him to pay a flying visit to his native land in order to be present at the wedding of his nephew and ward, the young Maharajah of Jodhpur, with a daughter of the Jam of Nawanagar, better known to cricket enthusiasts the world over as Ranjitsinhji.

And now the powerful Indian potentate has returned once more to the scene of hostilities, his appetite for fighting still unsatisfied.

There is a reason for this. Sixteen years ago Sir Pertab placed his services, and those of his splendid troops, at the disposal of the Indian Government, in order to proceed to China and assist in quelling the Boxer uprising there.

This offer was gratefully accepted, and in recognition thereof Sir Pertab, who was already a maharajah, a rajah, a rajput of the rajputs, and head of the famous warrior barons of Oudh, was raised to the rank of major-general in the British army. But when he and his men arrived before Pekin they found the German general von Waldersee in supreme command. The famous German soldier is said to have made game of the warrior prince, and the young officers on Waldersee's staff sneered at his splendid cavalry, calling them "coolies" and "niggers".

The effect of such insolence on a member of one of the oldest and proudest races in the world can well be imagined. Sir Pertab vowed then and there that some day he would be avenged. So did his troopers, individually and collectively. And the memory of an Indian soldier is long.

Years ago Sir Pertab swore not to die in his bed. He has been fighting for and with the British all his life, as his father, the old Maharajah Takht Singh, did before him.

One of the earliest recollections of the young Sir Pertab, then a boy of thirteen was seeing his sire set out with Havelock to give battle to the rebel sepoys during the great

Indian Mutiny, and in later years he often told his intimate friends how he had ground his teeth in rage and vexation because he was not also allowed to go.

Later on he rode with the British up thru the Kyber Pass, and into Kabul. He also fought under General Ellis in the Mohmand expedition, and in Tirah under General Lockhart, where he was wounded.

Lord Roberts was for over forty years a close personal friend of his, and upon one occasion "Bohs" was instrumental in saving Sir Pertab from being gored to death by the tusks of a boar while they were out pig-sticking together in the jungle.

ELKS STAMPEDE BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Md., July 8.—Baltimore today welcomed the first of the hots of Elks who will be here for the annual convention and reunion which begins in this city next week. Tomorrow will see the arrival of the main army of visitors, who will come from every State of the Union and from almost every city and town of any considerable size.

The entertainment of the visiting Elks will be on a scale never before attempted in this city. Beginning tomorrow and continuing thru week until Saturday there is not a break in the social program. Something has been arranged for every hour of the day and evening.

Mrs. A. F. Hunt who has been visiting Miss Olive M. Hodgson on West North street, has returned to her home in New York City.

When applied as directed, it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is dependable and inexpensive. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

PREPAREDNESS

Five in One Family

It has taken a long time to prove to doubting people the real necessity of doing more with less effort and expense. Now, as the season approaches for plowing the stubble, hot, dry long days of work are ahead. The horse can not and does not stand up under the strain. You can not force real life and blood against such odds.

AVERY TRACTOR

One that works night and day if you desire. The principal question that interests the "up-to-date" farmer is whether to use horse power or machine power. If you use horses you need an extra number, which in time of "peace," or in other words, when not working, are a heavy useless expense. With the Tractor, think of the difference. "No work, no pay." Or, when not at work no expense to the owner. Experience has taught us that in fall plowing you should plow six to nine inches deep, so as to kill weeds and make a good deep seed bed, one that will preserve the moisture from winter rains and snow, something that will double your yield. The Avery Tractor is built close at home, is one of the first in the field, and is built by people who know how. Avery Tractors are standardized. They're past the experimental stage. They have proven their superiority in all the field tests. That's why we can and do give exceptionally strong guarantees, which are backed by the Avery Company. Remember this special warranty. Avery Tractors are guaranteed to develop their full rated horse power or more, either on the belt or on the draw bar. A careful study of the Avery catalog which we will be glad to furnish you will convince you that we have a little better machine than the best yet built by any other concern. And, again, we will be only too glad to show you this famous engine in operation in the farmer's hands. The boys who have used them for the past year can tell you. We carry a sample Avery Tractor at all times on our sample floor, and we will be more than pleased to show you how easy it is to handle. This is the Tractor for LONG LIFE, SATISFACTORY SERVICE AND EASE OF OPERATION. Come in and see for yourself. We can show you how we can handle any fuel that it is possible for tractors to use, kerosene, gasoline or naphtha.

PROFESSIONAL TRADERS ARE IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF MARKET

Relatively Heavy Selling of Such Speculative Issues as U. S. Industrial Alcohol and the More Distinctive War Stocks. New York, July 8.—Professional traders were in complete control of today's narrow and perfunctory market, virtually all offerings coming from that source. There was relatively heavy selling of such speculative issues as United States Industrial Alcohol and the more distinctive war stocks like the equipments, New York Airbrake, Crucible Steel and Motors. Alcohol duplicated its low price of the year at 126 1/2. Copper and affiliated shares continued their declining tendency of recent days but Mexicans were fairly steady when not under severe pressure. Sugars and the shipping ground lost some ground, but the more stable industrials including United States Steel and Lackawanna Steel were firm. Ralls played no part worthy of comment aside from considerable activity in Denver and Rio Grande preferred which rose almost three points with some reaction toward the close. New York, Chicago and St. Louis, the "Nickel Plate" control of which was recently surrendered by New York Central interests made a recession of four points to 39. Total sales of stock amounted to 153,000 shares. The actual condition of the clearing house institutions fulfilled popular predictions, the bank statement showing a cash contraction of about $53,000,000 with a decrease of almost $35,000,000 in surplus, drawing the excess reserves down to $53,546,000. A year ago excess reserves approximated $163,000,000. Bonds evinced an easier tendency. Total sales par value $1,940,000. United States and Panama 2s and United States registered 4s declined 1/2 per cent on call during the week.

BLACK RUST REPORTS BRING SENSATIONAL ADVANCE IN WHEAT

Rise from Lowest Quotations of the Session Amounts to Five Cents a Bushel—Close is Unsettled at Gains of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 Cents Net. Chicago, July 8.—Black rust reports from Ypsilanti, N. D., brought about a sensational advance today in the price of wheat. The rise from the lowest quotations of the session amounted to five cents a bushel. The close, however, was unsettled at gains of 2 1/2@3c to 3 1/2c net with July at $1.06 1/2 and Sept. at $1.09 1/2. Corn finished 1/4c up, oats unchanged to 1/2c higher and provisions varying from the same as yesterday's finish to a rise of 20c. Prior to the alarming news from North Dakota indicating the possibility of huge damage to the spring crop, wheat prices had swung within comparatively narrow limits, and seemed during the early part of the day to act on the whole in favor of the bears. Indeed, the ruling influence was a report that the surplus moisture in the northwest was disappearing fast, and that prospects there were encouraging for a big yield. Besides, the bearish effects of the government report continued in evidence. On the other hand, word of liberal export sales helped give force to the subsequent sharp upturn in the market. Corn bulged when wheat turned strong. Previously the market was weak owing to the bearish government figures and as a result of ideal weather. Oats reflected the course of other cereals. Scattering reports of rust continued and stocks in store showed a big decrease for the week. Higher prices on hogs carried provisions up grade. Selling appeared to come chiefly from one of the big packers. CHICAGO CASH GRAIN MARKET. Chicago, July 8.—Wheat—No. 2 Nor. Spg., $1.05. Corn—No. 2 white, 80 1/2@80 3/4; No. 3 white, 80 1/2@80 3/4; No. 4 white, 79c; No. 2 yellow, 80 1/2@81c; No. 3 yellow, 80 1/2c. Oats—No. 3 white, 39 1/2@40c; No. 4 white, 38 1/2@39 1/2c; standard, 41c. ELGIN BUTTER MARKET. Elgin, Ill., July 8.—Butter steady; 50 tubs at 27 1/2c. NEW YORK MONEY MARKET. New York, July 8.—Mercantile paper, 4. Bar silver, 62. Mexican dollars, 47 1/2.

TO THE FORE WITH CAMP COOKERY

Don't Eat Indigestibles Merely Because You Live In a Tent—Try Chicken a la Cowboy and Beans Baked In a Hole.

In a permanent camp the fireplace may be built of flat stones, with an opening three feet above the ground, and this kind of fireplace eliminates the backaches that come from bending over a low fire. The log cooking stove is most convenient and is made by placing two green logs, their upper surfaces flattened, on the ground in a long, narrow V, the fire being built between them. The point of the V should be left open some three or four inches, the opening at the wide end being not more than nine inches. The coffee pot can be placed on a narrow end, and kettles may be hung on improvised cranes. A folding portable grate will be convenient.

Never start to cook until your fire is reduced to live coals, and to secure the proper bed of coals the original fire must be made of hard wood, as the embers from hemlock, pine or spruce lose their heat in a very short time. If you have a folding baker the bread, biscuit, and cakes may be baked in it. Otherwise you will have to place the dough in a greased pan and cover it with another pan of equal size. This kind of baker is buried in the hot embers, care being taken that there are plenty of hot coals on the top of the pan as well as underneath.

Prepared flour is almost a necessity in camp, as it only requires wetting with milk or water to make delicious biscuit or pancakes. However, if you haven't this flour biscuits are also easily and quickly made by mixing two parts of flour, two teaspoonsful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and a piece of butter or pork fat the size of an egg, with sufficient milk to make a dough soft enough to roll out and cut into shape. Bread is made in the same way, except that the dough is thinned to form a batter which will just pour, and it must be baked in deeper pans. To make good old time southern hocke mix one quart of cornmeal, one teaspoonful of baking powder and one teaspoonful of salt, with enough cold water to make a thin batter. Let it rise, then stir it well and bake. This is delicious eaten either hot or cold with butter or slurr. Toothsome flapjacks, which are the traditional fare of all outdoor people, are made by adding to two parts of flour two teaspoonsful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and one egg, sufficient milk to make a batter which will pour easily. Cook in a well greased frying pan over a hot fire.

The auxiliary oven or bean hole is the fireless cooker of the camp, and in it chicken, chowders, fish, steaks, green corn (unhusked), potatoes in their jackets and many other good things may be cooked. In it you can cook the best baked beans you have ever eaten. Soak the beans overnight, and in the morning parboil them in fresh water until the skins crack when you blow on them. Put half the quantity of the beans in the pot, add a good sized piece of salt pork, the remainder of the beans and another portion of pork. Add two tablespoonsful of molasses and cover with hot water. See that the lid fits on tightly. Slices of onion may be added if you care for the flavor. The oven in the meantime has been made ready by keeping up a continuous fire until the stones are hot.

If there should be a farm near the camp where you can procure a fat, yellow legged pullet to cook as the cowboys do you will find it greatly to your taste. Dress it carefully, dust the inside with salt, pepper and flour, adding a slice or two of sweet bacon. Treat the outside in the same way, putting a slice of bacon under each wing and across the breast and tying the wings down; then wrap it tightly in a napkin made from flour sack muslin and tie well. Drop the chicken into cold water, wrap another napkin around it and dip again. Then wrap in wetty thicknesses of newspapers, wetting very thoroughly each time. Bake the coals of the fire aside, cover the space with cold ashes to prevent the live coals from touching the chicken; then put in the well wrapped pullet, dust with cold ashes, pile on the hot coals and leave undisturbed for an hour. Remove the coals and charred paper carefully at the end of that time and from the inner napkin deftly turn out upon a dish the baked chicken.

TRAPPED BY HIS BLIND RAGE.

For Stupid Obstinacy a Himalayan Bear Takes the Prize.

"Most wild animals are stupid as well as greedy, but for sheer brainless obstinacy in the face of opposition," writes Prince Sarath Ghosh in his book, "The Wonders of the Jungle," "there is no animal like the Himalayan bear. If he finds a thing in his way he will always push it aside, if he can, even though it would be easier to go round the obstacle.

"The wily natives of India have observed that trait in his character and from it have contrived a trap to catch him. They select a tree with a suitable horizontal bough. At a point on the bough about ten or twelve feet from the fork they fasten a bait likely to attract the bear—honey, for example, or goat's flesh. Then from another bough above that one they suspend a heavy block of stone. The rope is so attached to the upper bough that the stone hangs between the bait and the fork of the tree.

"The bear scents the bait from a distance, comes to the tree, sees the food on the bough and climbs up the trunk of the tree, reaching the bough, he walks along it to get at the bait. But suddenly he notices the obstacle in the way and pushes it aside with his paw. The stone swings out of the way for a second, then it swings back and hits the bear on the paw. With a growl of irritation the bear pushes it aside more violently. The stone swings away again; then it returns with greater force and hits the bear on the chest.

"With a snarl of rage the bear gives the stone a tremendous thrust and sends it up into the air in a wide curve. Then down comes the stone in a similar curve and hits the bear a thumping whack on the ribs.

"Most animals would desist after that third blow; not so the bear. He is now in a perfectly mad rage, and a bear is a good boxer. He hits out with his paws right and left and sends the stone hurtling forward in a still wider curve. Then after a few seconds the stone comes back and hits the bear a terrific 'uppercut' on the jaw.

"The bear is roused to white hot fury. He thinks an enemy is hiding behind the stone—as an enemy might do in the jungle—and he is determined to reach that enemy.

"But, alas, the bear never went to school and learned the law of gravity! Every blow he hits the stone is returned tenfold. And as the stone has no brains to be knocked out it is the bear that gets knocked out at last. He will never, never give in until he is knocked out of the tree.

"Then the wily natives hiding below rush in with a net and throw it quickly over him.

"And that is how many menageries and zoos get their Himalayan bear."

Why Not a Garden Pool?

As to the garden pool—why not have one? It may be ever so simply done, and often the more simple it is the more charming. Or it may be very elaborate and artificial, like those in the tiny toy gardens of those masters of artifice, the Japanese. No other garden feature offers greater possibilities for diversity of form or for originality than the pool. I know a city garden with high walls about it, rather a cramped garden because of the nearness of other dwellings. But under a small tree in that garden is a bit of a basin with water that is always fresh, set there in the sod to invite the birds for a daily bath. And where birds are there is the spirit of the woodland and mountains, no matter how high skyscrapers tower round about.—Bertha H. Smith in Country-side Magazine.

Thoroughly Disinfected.

In the days when the Manchu dynasty was tottering two students cut off some of their fingers as a protest to the government's delay in granting a parliament. Such forms of protest are to the Chinese what writing a letter to the paper is to the Englishman. When these students were taken to the Union Medical college the doctors remonstrated with them for maiming their bodies and running the danger of infection as well.

"Oh, you needn't fear on that point."

said these students. "We boiled the knife first."—World Outlook.

Monster Coins.

It is understood that the largest gold coin in circulation is the gold "loof" of Anam, the French colony in eastern Asia. It is a flat round piece worth $55 English money. The next size to this unyielding coin is the Japanese "obang," which weighs more than two and a half ounces and is about equal to ten English sovereigns.—London Opinion.

The Seven Seas.

"The seven seas" is a poetic name for the oceans of the earth. The "waters embraced" in the term include, therefore, all the great waters of the earth. Specifically the seven seas are divided as the north and south Atlantic, north and south Pacific, Arctic, Antarctic and Indian oceans.

Man.

What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! How infinite in faculty! In form and moving how express and admirable! In action how like an angel! In apprehension how like a god! The beauty of the world! The paragon of animals!—Hamlet.

MORPHY, THE CHESS WIZARD

Marvelous Skill of the Greatest Master of Modern Times.

Paul Charles Morphy, the famous American chess player, is classed as "perhaps the most remarkable chess player of modern times." He was born in New Orleans in 1837 and was notably precocious as a child. He showed this precocity particularly in games of chess, and before he was thirteen had defeated many well known amateurs. For several years he studied law at the College of South Carolina and played chess only occasionally. But in 1857, at the first American chess congress, held in New York, he easily defeated the best players that could be brought against him.

In 1858 Morphy went to England and there defeated Lowenthal, Boden and Bird and performed the most astonishing feats in simultaneous games without the board. When he was in Paris, the same year, he won five out of eight games with Harrwitz and gave many exhibitions of blindfold playing. It was these last that were responsible for the early breakdown of his health.

After his return to the United States in 1859 he defeated the visiting German expert, Anderssen, in seven out of eleven games. He was admitted to the bar and began to practice law in New Orleans. But the strain of his blindfold contests had been too great for his mind, and he was forced to give up chess altogether and then to abandon all mental occupation. He lived in retirement until his death in 1884. His activity thus covered a comparatively short space of time.

Morphy's skill is described as inexplicable. He never was a close student of chess. He played his games easily and quickly, with no preparation and little hesitation. Yet his combinations were "remarkable for finesse, depth, elegance and soundness." He also possessed a phenomenal memory. —New York Times.

JAPAN'S SENSE OF HUMOR.

It Seems to Be Too Subtle For Occidental Minds to Master.

Japan was the first foreign country where I saw moving pictures shown. In Yokohama one whole street is given up to moving pictures—Theater street. Great banners hung clear across it with the picturesque Japanese alphabet racing up and down them advertising the respective performances.

On the floor the audience sits, with their feet squarely turned under them, absorbed in the shifting shadows. The subtitles are in English, but so common is English coming to be in Japan that the meaning doesn't go over their heads. There is always some one to whisper the title's meaning.

American manufacturers have labored long and hard to find films that will amuse the Japanese, but their success has not been very marked. No white mind can fathom a Japanese's sense of humor. Our funniest films over there go flat. But in the midst of a death scene in some dramatic film they will suddenly begin to rock with merriment. There is a fortune in it for any one who will locate the Japanese bump of humor and manufacture plays that will hit it.

The Japanese are now manufacturing their own films, but they are not of much interest to white people, as nothing ever happens in them. There is no action. Half a reel may be given up to drinking a cup of tea. But this may be exceedingly funny to the Japanese, for there has been more going on than shows on the surface. By the way they lift their cups, by the way they swing their fan they are passing a message. Two Japanese can talk to each other with their fans, while the white man standing alongside understands nothing of what they are saying.—World Outlook.

A King's Ransom.

The expression "worth a king's ransom," though generally supposed to mean the ransoms paid for a king, more probably refers to that paid to a king. In early times, when armies received practically no regular pay and the soldier's reward was the booty taken from the vanquished, each soldier had a right to the bodies as well as the goods of the prisoners he captured. The conqueror might slay his prisoner, sell him to slavery or set him at liberty on payment of a ransom. But, though it was the common practice in feudal times for the individual captor to receive the ransom for prisoners of low degree, those for princes or great nobles were always paid to the king; hence a king's ransom.

Chameleon Beaches.

The beaches of Snails Island, in the gulf of Mexico, change color twice daily with the tides. The sands are really of a golden color, and when the rising tide spreads the wide beach still remains gold, but when the tide ebbs they look quite purple, and this is accounted for by myriads of tiny purple snails crawling in the wake of the ebbing tide. It is to these snails that the island owes its name.

Origin of Music.

The origin of music is lost in antiquity. Among civilized people it probably originated among the Egyptian priests, who employed this art in their religious rites and ceremonies. From the Egyptians the art passed on to the Greeks and Romans and so on to modern nations.—New York American.

A Fitting Fine.

"There's a hard magistrate in that court."
"What did he do?"

At Home in the Office

Everything moves smoothly and without irritation—the necessary work becomes less irksome, and is accompanied with little fatigue, wherever electricity reigns!

Hot Weather Has No Worries for the Electrically Equipped

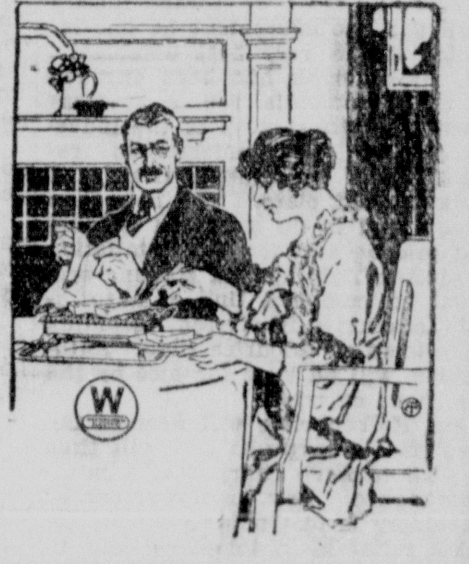

Every Home Should Be as Well Provided as the Modern Office.

Perhaps you have thought of electric fans only as comforts for offices, stores, restaurants, lodge rooms and other public places. But, "why under the sweltering sun" shouldn't you and your family be comfortable at home when it can be accomplished with so little trouble and expense? Phone us to send out a fan—three come in various sizes, suitable for small or large rooms, and the expense of operating is almost too insignificant to consider. Then there's the homemaker's comfort to be considered, and everyone knows that if her home is so equipped that she is able to attend to her duties with but little trouble and in a pleasant way, it is well worth the price.

Why not invest in an electric iron, a toaster stove, an electric percolator, or any one of the dozen little modern contrivances that makes home life so joyous that you will wonder why you never thought of those things before. At any rate drop in and talk it over with us, or phone 580 (either phone) for Mr. McLaren to call and see you.

Mighty Canopus.

The largest star now known is Canopus, in the southern constellation of the Ship, invisible to us of the northern hemisphere. The luminosity of Canopus is 47,500 times that of the sun, its area 18,000 times more vast, its diameter 134 times and its volume 2,420,000 times superior to the respective measures of our solar focus. Its mass is 1,350,000 times greater. According to the interesting hypothesis of O. R. Waukey, an English astronomer, Canopus is in reality our central sun, about which our own weak luminary and its planets, including the earth, are describing an orbit.—Paris Revue Scientifique.

STONEHAMITE.—Cut off stem close to leaves, remove outside bottom leaves, trim artichoke, cut off one inch from tops of leaves and with a sharp knife remove choke; then the artichoke with a string to keep its shape. Soak half hour in cold water. Drain and cook thirty to forty-five minutes in boiling, salted, acidulated water. Remove from water, place upside down to drain, then take off string. Serve with hollandaise sauce. Boiled artichokes often constitute a course at dinners. Leaves are drawn out separately with fingers and dipped in sauce and fleshy ends only eaten, although the bottom is edible. Artichokes may be cut in quarters, cooked, drained and served with bearnaise sauce. When prepared in this way they are served with mutton.

Fried Artichokes.—Sprinkle boiled artichokes cut in quarters with salt, pepper and finely chopped parsley. Dip in batter, fry in deep fat and drain. In preparing artichokes trim off tops of leaves closer than when served as boiled artichokes.
Artichoke Bottoms.—Remove all leaves and the choke. Trim bottoms in shape and cook until soft in boiling, salted, acidulated water. Serve with hollandaise or bechamel sauce.
Stuffed Artichokes.—Prepare and cook as boiled artichokes, having them slightly underdone. Fill with chicken foremeat and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven, basting twice with white sauce. Remove to serving dish and pour around thin white sauce.

NEXT SATURDAY IS FIRST DATE FOR FILING CANDIDATES PETITIONS

County Clerk Boruff Will Follow Plan He Inaugurated Two Years Ago—Avoids Former Annoying Practice and Gives All A Fair Deal.

Political affairs have been so quiet that there are not many people who realize that primary election date is only about eight weeks in the future. According to the law candidates for county offices must file petitions not more than sixty days prior to the election and not less than forty days. This means that next Saturday, July 15, is the first date for filing and Saturday, August 5, is the last date.

A few years ago there was a big scramble at each election among the candidates for county office to secure the first place on the ballot.

County Clerk C. A. Boruff two years ago devised a plan to do away with this practice and it proved quite satisfactory to candidates. This year Mr. Boruff will follow the same plan. All candidates will be asked to have their petitions in the office of the county clerk by 8 a. m. next Saturday. All petitions will then be placed in a box and a person blindfolded will do the drawing. Mr. Boruff in explaining the plan he devised said:

"I desire to state for the information of candidates for county office in Morgan county, in reference to the filing of petitions, that they may be filed July 15 to August 5 inclusive. Those who desire to draw for first place on the ticket may do so by having their petitions at my office at 8:00 a. m. Saturday, July 15, this being the first opportunity permitted by law for filing.

"I will not recognize any line-up or person with a petition until the first hour prescribed by law for filing, which is 8:00 a. m. Saturday July 15. Each petition that is presented in readiness for filing at exactly eight o'clock standard time will be placed in a box where the petitions will be well shaken in the box so that they will be well distributed; they will then be drawn out by a disinterested party who will be blindfolded, and they will be filed in the order in which they are drawn from the box."

"The names of the candidates for the several offices each of the party tickets will be placed on the primary ballot in the order in which they are thus filed. The petitions when presented at the county clerk's office must be in proper form so there will be no delay with reference to the drawing. I would advise that the candidates submit their petitions before being brought to file to some person who is thoroughly acquainted with the required form of filing petitions. This plan will make it certain that every petition filed is in such form that it can be properly considered in this arrangement."

On the date set for filing petitions in accordance with the announced plan all candidates for office appeared at the county clerk's office. Each man was given a plain white envelope in which to place his petition, then sealed the envelope. All envelopes were put in a common receptacle and then after being thoroughly mixed up were drawn out one at a time. When drawn each envelope was numbered and after all had been drawn the envelopes were opened in the order of the numbers and the names thus placed on the ballot.

DR. J. M. HUCKSTEP DIES AT HOME IN OAK PARK

Deceased Had Been A Morgan County Resident Many Years—A Honorable Army Record.

Word was received yesterday that Dr. J. M. Huckstep had died at his home in Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago, Friday evening at seven o'clock, after a long and tedious illness.

Dr. Huckstep was a resident of this county nearly all his life and was reared in the west part, where he grew to manhood. He enlisted in Co. D, 115th Ill. Infantry as a musician, in July 1862 and was mustered out May, 23, 1865. On his retirement from the army he studied dentistry and for several years followed the practice of his profession in this city and finally gave it up and retired to a farm in the vicinity of Lynwood where he lived for a long time and was a valued correspondent of the Journal.

After that he moved to Jacksonville and resided for years in the house on the southeast corner of College Avenue and South Main St., where the family conducted a boarding house. Later they moved to the house on Grove street for many years the homestead of the Gallaher family where they remained till their removal to Oak Park seven years ago. There the doctor was prominent in the organization and conduct of a club of former residents of Jacksonville. He was also a member of the "Borrowed Time" club which admitted only those past seventy years of age. He was an active member of Centenary church while in Jacksonville and devoted much time to the good work. He was also a member of Matt Starr post G. A. R. joining that body June 22, 1900.

Dr. Huckstep was an enthusiastic gardener and was proud of his success in that line exhibiting his vegetables with much pride. He was a writer of no ordinary ability and he was sought for in that line to a considerable extent.

He leaves his wife and only one child, Mrs. O. E. Porter of Chicago. The remains are to arrive here Monday morning and will be taken to Gillham's undertaking parlors and the funeral will be at Centenary church conducted by Rev. G. W. Flagg at two p. m. in charge of the Grand Army.
